Supplementary information for creditors

Question – Should I send copies of paperwork to the Joint Administrators, in addition to the proof of debt?

Response – Yes, it will assist the Joint Administrators if you do send paperwork and information you think relevant. Please refer to the letter dated 8 July 2010 for further details.

Question – How were the Joint Administrators appointed?

Response – The Joint Administrators in respect of both companies were appointed by the related director under paragraph 22 Schedule B1 of the Insolvency Act 1986. The Joint Administrators had no prior professional relationship with either company.

Question – Is this a pre-pack?

Response – Assuming you mean a pre-packaged Administration (which is normally what the term “pre-pack” means), then no.

For your information, a pre-pack involves almost all of the work necessary to sell a company’s assets or business immediately or shortly after it has entered administration being done beforehand. Then, once it goes into Administration, the Administrator effects that sale immediately or shortly thereafter. This has not happened here.
